

RYABRAE NGAIDA is 21 years old and moved to Portland last year. She has worked as an actor for two years and has film credits throughout the Portland area. She will earn her associates degree this fall of and plans to continue on to a BA in theatre arts and, eventually, to the Oregon Shakespeare Festival. Her passions include Black theater, Shakespeare study, and women's rights. She loves reading, knitting, and spending time with friends and family.